B.J. Moon is the reigning SCAC Player of the Week, leading the Tigers to a pair of wins at the Southwestern/Trinity Holiday Classic on December 18-19 in Georgetown, Texas. Moon averaged 16 points/game and hit 12-19 field goals in the two games. He is the third Tiger men's player to win the award in the first six weeks of the season.

With a hot start to the season, Moon and Charles Houston are quickly approaching 700 career points. Moon is the closest, needing just five more to reach the milestone, while Houston stands at 662 career points so far.

Houston has also moved into second all-time at Trinity in career steals, with 141 in his first three-plus seasons. Houston recently passed Jonathan McNulty (1992-96) and Cameron Hill (1996-99), who were previously tied for second on the list. Houston needs 33 more steals this season to pass Jason Morris (2001-05) for the school record.

Moon also recently became the 12th player in Trinity history to reach 100 three-point field goals made in a career. Moon needs only nine more threes to move into eighth on the all-time list. Patrick Robinson is just 18 three-pointers from reaching the century mark for his career.

Trinity's current seven-game winning streak is the longest for the men's basketball team since the 2004-05 season when the team had a 12-game streak in the middle of the year. The Tigers also had a 10-game win streak and won 22 of 24 games to close out the season.

The team's 8-1 start to the season is tied for the team's fourth-best opening in the SCAC era (since 1991-92). The 1999-2000 team opened up 18-1, followed by last year's 10-1 start to the season. In 1995-96, the Tigers were 9-1 to start the year, and the 2003-04 team's 8-1 start was matched this season.

Luke Calderera opened the year by scoring in double figures in each of the team's first eight games, but fell one point short of double digits in the team's last win over Marian University. Calderera is the only Tiger player to score 10 or more points in that many games, with seniors Charles Houston and B.J. Moon scoring at least 10 points in seven and six games, respectively.

Houston has four double-doubles this season (followed closely by three from Calderera), which is already more than the three he posted all of last season. It is also the highest single-season total since 2003-04 when Sean Devins finished the year with five double-doubles in 29 games.
