Title: Program and Policy Intern
Organization: Center for Faith-Based and Neighborhood Partnerhips, Department of Health and Human Services
Website: http://www.hhs.gov/fbci/about/volunteer/fbci-intern.html
Location: Hubert Humphrey Building, 200 Independence Avenue, SW in Washington, DC
Time: 10-40 hours per week
Compensation: Unpaid
Duration: Summer

Internship Description: The Center for Faith-Based and Neighborhood Partnerhips is looking for a self-starter to work independently and on teams on projects related to equipping faith-based and community organizations with necessary tools to successfully compete for federal funding for public health projects and programs.

Opportunities:
• A unique view of policy from inside the Executive Branch of government, including the opportunity to interact with White House staff.
• An excellent opportunity to work with and learn about a variety of agencies within the large and diverse HHS organization, including the Administration for Children and Families (ACF), the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA), Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) and many others.
• An excellent experience to learn skills in administration and policy from a talented group of public service employees and political appointees.
• Develop a database to track participation of faith-based and community groups in HHS programs.
• Manage information to be posted on the Center’s web site.
• Write informational materials about the Center’s activities and mission.

Requirements:
We are looking for a college student, who is interested in public policy and eager to contribute to a team environment to further social service and public health goals. The intern should have strong computer, writing, and other communication skills, and have a flexible and positive attitude. An interest in the Obama administration’s Faith-Based and Neighborhood Partnerships initiative is also desirable but not required.

To apply:
Interested applicants should send resume and cover letter to Mr. Jamie Citron at jamison.citron@hhs.gov by March 15, 2010.
Title: International Outreach Intern
Organization: Global Health Council
Website: http://tbe.taleo.net/NA9/ats/careers/requisition.jsp?org=GLOBALHEALTH&cws=1&rid=18
Location: Washington, D.C.
Time: 40 hours per week
Compensation: $200/month stipend
Duration: Summer

Internship Description: The International Outreach Intern will be responsible for supporting the Global Health Council’s mission of advancing global health policy by engaging and mobilizing communities worldwide. As a member of the Department of Policy Communications team, the intern will focus primarily on both administrative as well as programmatic elements of the annual International AIDS Candlelight Memorial (www.candlelightmemorial.org), supporting the International Outreach Coordinator and assistant in maintaining a diverse coalition of volunteers implementing the Candlelight Memorial in their communities worldwide and developing the overall program. The intern will also work closely with other departments to achieve these goals, particularly Government Relations, and participate in routine functions of the Council as a whole.

Opportunities:
• Actively and constructively participate in inter-departmental meetings, activities, and committees to address division-wide issues, including the Council’s annual conference.
• Organize registration for community coordinators worldwide as they apply to participate in the Candlelight Memorial program.
• Help recruit new community coordinators worldwide, developing relationships with organizations and encouraging them to get involved in the program.
• Field inquiries by community coordinators and the general public.
• Contribute to strategic planning meetings regarding development of the Candlelight Memorial Program.

Requirements:
The potential intern must demonstrate commitment to improving global health and must be working toward an undergraduate degree. Experience in program or project administration is a plus, particularly around event planning and financial documentation. An understanding of HIV/AIDS issues and other core global health topics is a plus. Experience working and communicating with international populations, with experience traveling or living internationally is also a plus.

To apply:
Apply online by March 15, 2010.
Title: Biomedical Internship
Organization: National Institutes of Health
Location: Bethesda, MD (outside of D.C.)
Time: 40 hours per week
Compensation: A monthly stipend (generally about $2,000)

Internship Description: The Summer Internship Program (SIP) at the NIH provides an opportunity to spend the summer working side-by-side with some of the leading scientists in the world in an environment devoted exclusively to biomedical research. The SIP sponsors a wide range of summer activities including a lecture series featuring distinguished NIH investigators, informal lunchtime talks on training for research careers, and a trainee poster day.

To apply:
Apply online by March 1, 2010.